Old Head Golf Links

Old Head is a remarkably dramatic piece of Ireland, protruding more than two miles into the Atlantic Ocean. Located in County Cork on the South West coast, The Old Head of Kinsale is home to a world-class, 18-hole golf course and luxury accommodation. From the tips, the course stretches more than 7,000yds, with a minimum of five tees per hole. Nine holes play along the cliff tops and all 18 holes provide stunning ocean views.

Ballybunion Golf Club - Old Course and Cashen (Robert Trent Jones) Course

Located on the north west coast of County Kerry on a beautiful stretch of sand dunes overlooking the Atlantic Ocean, you'll find two wonderfully challenging and unique links golf courses at Ballybunion, the Old Course and the Cashen. The Old Course exudes a majestic feel that simply cannot be compared to any other course on earth. With beautifully contoured fairways that tumble down through a blanket of grassy dunes, it's no wonder these challenging holes have been consistently rated among the top courses in the world. The Trent Jones Cashen Course, located along the sweeping, undisturbed shoreline, offers breathtaking views throughout. There is a wild look to the place. Long grass covers the dunes that pitch and roll throughout the course. Whatever your choice of course, every hole, every hazard and every shot is defined by nature's infinite presence.

Waterville Golf Links

Golf at Waterville is a mystical experience - the beauty of classic links land surrounded by the sea yet forever challenged and shaped by the elements. More than 100 years old, Waterville is rated among the top five courses in Ireland and the top 20 links courses in the world. The course was a noted training venue for the British Open by four past champions and combines sand dunes, gorse and native grasses, firm fairways, sod-faced bunkers and subtle putting surfaces all intertwined by the ever-changing weather. Waterville Golf Links is located on the south west coast on the Ring of Kerry.

Tralee Golf Club

Surrounded by the Atlantic, Tralee's magnificent and challenging course offers incomparable views on all sides. Castles, distant islands, towering mountains and the beach that figured prominently in the film Ryan's Daughter will captivate you. Built by Arnold Palmer, this stunning setting represents a true paradise for those willing to challenge what is widely acclaimed as one of the finest links courses in Ireland. It comes as no surprise to learn that, due to the majestic beauty of this setting, Palmer chose it to be his first (and arguably finest) golf course in Europe. A trip to southwest Ireland for the accomplished golfer could not be complete without playing Tralee.

Lahinch Golf Club - Old Course

Established in 1892, the Lahinch Old Course is frequently referred to as the "Saint Andrews of Ireland" as it looks out on the ever-changing Atlantic Ocean and is subject to all its mood swings. It has an abundance of exceptional golf holes, where the natural terrain is utilised to optimum advantage. It hosts the south of Ireland Amateur Golf Championship annually and should be on every golfer's itinerary.

Trump International - Doonbeg

The Doonbeg golf site was designed by two-time British Open Champion Greg Norman. Spanning 1.5 miles of crescent shaped beach and century old sand dunes, the course offers views across the Atlantic from the green, the fairway, or tee of 16 of the 18 holes. Variations in wind speed and direction ensure the course plays differently every time. The par-72 layout features a single loop of nine holes out and nine back, playing 6,885 yards from the back tees. The most natural routing within the existing dunes resulted in an uncommon combination of five par 3's and five par 5's.
